Objective

Seeks to identify undervalued securities worldwide and create diversified global credit portfolios that provide risk-adjusted performance superior to the benchmark through balanced contributions of top-down and bottom-up sources

Highlights

- Follows a broad global universe of securities including corporate credits, asset-backed securities including mortgages, as well as government, quasi-government and agency securities
- Invests primarily in higher-quality fixed income securities of corporate issuers worldwide
- Value-driven approach implemented within a risk budgeting framework
- Seek to identify and create diversified portfolios with undervalued and preferably discount securities across relevant risk factors, including sector, country, curve and specific credit
- Invests in investment grade corporate and other credit sectors
- Seeks to manage risk through diversification and continuous monitoring of absolute risk and tracking error from benchmark
- Below investment grade: typically less than 20%
- Typical tracking error: 1% to 3%, depending on the market environment
- Typical portfolio: greater than 200 issues
